TELESOFT SOLUTIONS

Telecom and networking costs can represent one of your largest single operating expenditures. Yet attempting to manage telecom for optimum efficiency using manual processes can drain essential resources from core revenue earning activities. And the complexity of telecom today means savings often go overlooked and efficiencies remain untapped.

This is where Telesoft makes the difference. Telesoft provides responsive, flexible telecom expense management service approaches that are built from the ground up, offering superior integration, visibility, and performance. Our Purpose-Driven Platform enables us to manage your telecom environment for maximum efficiency. We save you money – up to 15% on common pain points including invoice, usage and inventory management. And up to 30% on mobility management. At the same time, we empower you to enhance service quality and reliability for your organization through enhanced business intelligence – right at your fingertips.

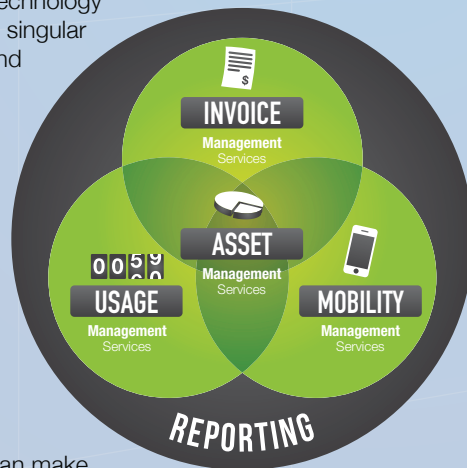

The result is telecom that is not only better for your budget, but better aligned to your unique organizational needs. That's what we call talking smart.

FULLY INTEGRATED SOLUTION SET

Telesoft provides a service and technology platform that is built to achieve a singular purpose: optimizing your fixed and mobile telecom expense management environment. The platform is supported by a seamlessly integrated product model, rather than an ad-hoc system stitched together by offshore developers or through mergers and acquisitions.

The Telesoft solution set addresses each aspect of your telecom environment while centralizing your view of telecom expenses and activities so you can make better business decisions. Whether you need to more accurately validate invoices and avoid late fees, chargeback across the organization for telecom usage to operate at zero budget, or manage your mobile assets while enforcing policy guidelines – Telesoft provides the capabilities to make it happen. This scalable, modular solution has been refined over three decades, in order to effectively meet your changing needs in optimizing your telecom environment.

Telesoft's industry-dedicated approach and true partnering mindset make us uniquely able to respond to your needs. The result is superior TEM performance on an ongoing basis.
